

From the first phone call to Sue, I knew that I had found a professional company that puts the customer first. After hearing about my month long fiasco with another company which had put me weeks behind schedule, Sue had my order IN STOCK and in my van in TWO business days!!! The best part of the whole experience is that while Carter Industries is not located in the Sacramento area, they came to my home to install the entire system! The delivery was on time and installed by two friendly and professional employees. Thanks to Carter Industries I am back on the road and able to service my accounts again. I have already recommended your company to others in the area and will do so in the future. Thanks again for the great customer service,
